

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Young Lady Fifteen Years Old
Elopes and is Married.

FORGIVEN BY PARENTS

Cards Issued for Wedding of Miss Weisiger and Mr.
Early—Personals.

Opposition on the part of the parents of the bride was the cause of the elopement of Mr. F. L. Ashbrook and Miss Helen Goode, of Chesterfield county, who on Tuesday went to Pelham, N. C., where they were made man and wife.

The parents of the young lady objected to the marriage on account of her youthfulness. She is only fifteen years of age. Together with Mr. Ashbrook she left her home near Tomahawk Church, on Tuesday and went to Pelham, where they were married. On Thursday evening the couple returned home and were received with open arms by the parents of the young lady, with whom they are now making their home.

Mrs. Ashbrook is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Goode. Mr. Ashbrook is a son of the late Holman Ashbrook. He is employed at Horner's saw mill.

Arrested for Immunity.

John Berry, driver for Mr. Scott, manager of the woodenware factory at Manchester, was arrested last night by Sergeant Wright on the charge of cruelty to a horse. Berry took his employer's horse into the country, and it is alleged, drove the animal about until he was exhausted.

Cards For Wedding.

Cards have been issued for the wedding of Miss Gertrude Weisiger and Mr. Everett Eugene Early, which is to take place in Meade Memorial Episcopal Church on Thursday evening, October 3d, at 6:30 o'clock.

Miss Weisiger is the daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Weisiger, and is a popular here. Early is a member of the firm of Washington & Early, druggists, and manages the Swansboro store for that concern.

In Police Court.

The case of Joseph Woodbridge, charged with obtaining nearly $80 from Otto Cheatham, while playing cards, was called yesterday morning, but was continued until Tuesday. The warrant was sworn out by Cheatham.

Dovie Brooks, colored, a servant girl, charged with stealing a quantity of clothing from a Bainbridge Street residence, where she was employed, was fined $10 by the mayor yesterday.

A young white man, who gave his name as McCabe and his home as Richmond, was fined $2.50 and costs for disorderly conduct in a saloon.

Personals and Briefs.

Miss Helen Weisiger continues quite ill at the Retreat for the Sick.

Mr. Dan Lewis, of Knoxville, Tenn., is visiting his brother, Mr. William Lewis.

Mr. R. E. Rowlett, of No. 1204 Hull Street, who has been quite ill, is much improved.

Misses Alma and Susie Bradshaw, who have been visiting their aunt at Park View, returned home.

The post-office is asking for bids for the carrying of the mails from the Atlantic Coast Line and Southern depots and from Richmond. Mr. S. L. Hawks, who has had the contract for the work, has resigned. All bids must be in before October 1st.

The tent at Fifteenth and Hull Streets, where the meetings have been conducted by the Manchester Methodist Union, will be moved to-morrow and services will be held at the corner of Sixth and Hull Streets.

George Nunnally, the little son of Mr. George L. Nunnally, of Fourth and Hull Streets, who several weeks ago was run over by a wagon, is much improved.

At West End 22 E. Church to-day.

Pastor, Rev. J. T. Routten, will preach at the morning service, and at the evening service Rev. Mr. Roland, of Charlottesville, will preach.

Mr. F. A. Brown, representing the movement of the Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock service to-day. He will hold an informal conference with the men in the primary room at 10:30 A. M.

Mrs. Harry L. Neal, of North Carolina, is the guest of Mrs. F. D. DuVal.

Mrs. Embrey and Miss Alice McRae, who have been visiting Mr. Colin McRae at Norfolk, have returned home.

Miss Irma Lewis, of Philadelphia, is the guest of the Misses McRae, on Twelfth Street.

Mr. Simmons, of No. 516 West Eleventh Street, who was injured by an electric car Sunday night, is able to resume his duties again.

Mr. M. Lacy, of Philadelphia, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Fendley, on Porter Street.

Mr. Lawrence Ingram continues quite sick at his home, Twelfth and Porter Streets.

Mrs. Ralph Holt, of Washington, is the guest of Mrs. W. F. Merzbach.

Mr. Obadiah East, of Swansboro, is recovering from a surgical operation.

Mrs. Williams is quite sick at her home, No. 20 West Eighth Street.

Mr. Loren D. Fendley, of Rocky Mount, is visiting his parents.

Master Archer Saunders is visiting his mother, Mrs. Woodbridge, on Eighth Street.

Miss Belle Marshall has returned to Forest Hill, near Chatham, where she has been spending the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Spencer left Friday for their home in Texas.

Miss Mary Bransford Jones, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Cox, at Forest Hill, has returned to her home in Norfolk.

Mr. T. J. Turpin has returned from

Dr. Lyon's
PERFECT
Tooth Powder

Cleanses, preserves and beautifies the teeth, and Purifies the breath.
A superior dentifrice for people of refinement

Established in 1866 by
J. H. Lyon, D.D.S.

Opening

We beg to announce to our friends and patrons our opening of

Fall and Winter Millinery

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday,
September 24, 25, 26, 1907.

You are cordially invited to visit our Parlors

Block-Turner Millinery
with Owens & Floyd,
417 East Broad

Newport News, where he has been visiting his sister, Mrs. W. G. Hartwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Bethel and children have returned to their home in North Carolina, after a pleasant visit to their mother on Perry Street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Robertson and family are visiting the exposition.

Miss Annie Norvell, of Charlotte, has returned home after a delightful visit to Mrs. Charles Page.

Mrs. James Simpson and son have returned home after a pleasant visit to the mountains of Virginia and North Carolina.

Mrs. A. T. Atwell and Miss Annie Atwell are quite sick at their home, 1104 Porter Street.

Mr. John H. Barker, who has been very sick at her home, Drewry's Bluff, is improving a great deal.

Mr. Pierson, of Enfield, N. C., is the guest of Mrs. Simpson on Perry Street.

LITTLE KNOWN HERE.

Reported That Southern Will Have Strike On Hands.

Reports were circulated yesterday to the effect that a strike of the telegraph operators of the Southern Railroad would probably begin to-morrow morning. Nothing definite could be ascertained, although rumors of differences between the men and the company, growing out of the recent strike of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, have been current for several days.

The difficulty seems to center about Atlanta, where it is said two men have recently been discharged by the Southern for refusing to handle Western Union messages from operators at offices where union men are still on strike. According to the reports among telegraphers here, the Order of Railway Telegraphers have notified the officials of the Southern that unless the two men are reinstated the operators of the Southern system will be called out on Monday. No official confirmation could be secured from the officials of the order.

Mr. John H. Reid, chief clerk in the office of the superintendent of the Richmond Division of the Southern, said last night that there had been no trouble whatever on the division, and that the officials here had no information of trouble further South or of any probable strike.

THORNE AND BUGGY GONE.

Curious Disappearance May Mean Theft or Simply Mistake.

Mr. J. A. Connelly is looking for a handsome horse which was taken either by theft or inadvertence from in front of his home, No. 513 West Franklin Street, yesterday evening about 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Connelly said the horse, which is a bay, with white feet, hitched to a top buggy with rubber tires, tied in front of his house, after coming in from driving. He telephoned to the stable for a boy. A few moments later a negro appeared, un hitched the animal and drove off. Five minutes later the regular stableman came up and looked in vain for the horse which he had been told would be in front of the house.

The police were notified, and a reward is offered for the return of the horse and buggy.

Tent Meetings.

Tent meetings under the auspices of the Seventh Day Adventists are being held each night at Twenty-ninth and Leigh Streets. Services will be conducted in the great tent to-day at 3 and 8 P. M., with preaching by Pastor H. J. Farman. The subject will be the eighth chapter of Daniel. Services will continue each night this week.

FINES OF JAPANESE PAID

Captain and Crew of the Nippo to Be Discharged.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 21.—The Department of Justice has been advised that money has been procured from Japan to pay the fines of the captain and the crew of the seal poaching schooner Nippo, and they will be discharged.

Two Japanese seal-poaching schooners were brought into Unalakleet, and their officers and crew tried at Valdo, Alaska, two months ago. Ten of the Japanese, who were in small boats sailing within the American three-mile limit, were convicted and sentenced to fines ranging from $500 for the captain of the Nippo to $200. Under the Alaska code an unpaid fine means a day of imprisonment for every $25 of the fine, so that the captain of the Nippo would have to serve about eight months.

This leaves in the crew three members of the crew, the two, who were found guilty, have not been paid.

THINGS DOING IN HENRICO COUNTY

Costs Heavier Than Fine in Case of Young White Men.

IMPROVEMENT OF SCHOOLS

Mr. Parrish Will Not Be Independent Candidate for Treasurership.

J. R. Neill and R. Doane, two young white men, were before Magistrate George W. Thomas, of Henrico county, yesterday afternoon on the charge of engaging in a fistfight in the boiler shop of the Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Works. The boss of the shop testified to the previous good character of both young men, who are skilled workmen. A half-dozen fellow-workmen told of the difficulty, which consisted merely of a blowy tussle and returned. Dr. Hinchman, of the city ambulance force, declared that neither of the two had been put in jeopardy or permanently injured by the encounter.

When placed on the stand both men admitted their fault, but with frankness of the difficulty. It seems that Doane owed Neill $8, which he forgot to bring with him on the day it was due. They had some words. Neill struck him and the blow returned, and they were separated, and later on made friends again.

Squire Thomas fined Neill $2.50 for striking the first blow. He paid and started out, when he was called back to get the money. All the witnesses, all friends and fellow-workmen and declined to make any charge for witness fees. Young Mr. Thomas figured away on what was due the magistrate, the clerk, the officer and the jailer, who, by the way, the young men had not seen, not having been to the jail. Neill was finally charged $6.35 for his blow. Doane was directed to pay the costs of his arrest, which were figured up to $3.45, no fine being imposed. Both young men paid up at once and left with their friends and the witnesses.

The constable who made the arrest acted as prosecuting attorney, summoning the various witnesses in their order, and taking part in the questioning. It was said at the courthouse by an official that the present State law, as it applies to Henrico county, provides that where a man is convicted he has to pay the costs. Where he is acquitted, the State pays the costs, but on pays one-half the amount charged to the prisoner. In most of the cities of the State the salary of the police justice is a fixed amount.

In Henrico Schools.

Henrico public schools have opened with the most promising outlook. Some difficulties in regard to children living in the annexed territory, and other disputes over the proper schools for the children to attend, have now been straightened out, and Superintendent Jackson Davis reports that every child in the county is now in school.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school is overcrowded. It is probable that the citizens of Chestnut Hill will petition the next Legislature for authority to issue bonds and so erect an adequate permanent building similar to the one erected in Barton Heights last year.

The County School Board, which was organized a week ago, is now running smoothly. The two districts where the schools are most crowded are Highland Springs and Chestnut Hill. The new building at Highland Springs will not be ready for occupancy until about the middle of the session, and additional rooms have been rented in a nearby dwelling for temporary use.

At Chestnut Hill there is no immediate relief in sight, and the school